

Call for Conference Presentations

The Colorado Association of Stormwater and Floodplain Managers (CASFM) is requesting abstracts or topics for presentations at its 17th Annual Conference in Glenwood Springs, to be held September 27-29, 2006. Presentations are typically 30 minutes in length, and workshops are 3 hours. This is a great opportunity to talk to your peers about interesting projects and knowledge you have gained in the fields of stormwater and floodplains.

The conference will be held at the historic Hotel Colorado in Glenwood Springs, Colorado. This is a spectacular place to enjoy the scenic fall beauty in the Mountains while taking part in this professionally valuable annual event. The Hotel Colorado is located downtown near the Hot Springs Pool and provides easy access to a variety of exciting restaurants, unique shopping, and exciting recreational opportunities for attendees and their families.

Presentations are a way to instruct your fellow engineers, scientists and community leaders on interesting projects and new techniques. The presentations should be of interest to the members and be a current topic related to stormwater and floodplains. Topics may include:

- Stormwater Management
- Floodplain Management
- Water Quality Enhancement
- Stream Restoration
- Watershed Protection & Planning
- New Drainage Criteria
- Innovative Techniques
- Technological Advances
- Hydrologic Modeling
- Hydraulic Modeling
- GIS Mapping
- What Went Wrong and Why
- Lessons Learned
- Public Involvement
- Project Update
