Join your fellow CASFM members for an in-depth presentation on Sustainable Floodplain Management. Brian Varrella, City of Fort Collins, will discuss sustainable practices for managing floodplains using triple bottom line objectives. The presentation will include a discussion of how "No Adverse Impact" tools can be implemented on a community scale. An example will be given illustrating how "triple bottom line" principles have been implemented on a community level by the City of Fort Collins.

As usual, to promote sustainable transportation practices, please consider carpooling, riding your bike, or walking to Ayres Associates.
